

HOLCOSIL IP COLORING SOLUTIONS FOR SILICONE SEALANTS

Silicone manufacturers need more than just color—they need solutions that integrate seamlessly with their processes. Holcosil IP is a versatile, high-performance colorant based on silicone oil (PDMS) as a carrier, offering excellent dispersion and high pigment loading for low dosing. This product is designed to meet the coloring requirements for silicone-based formulations without compromising the mechanical or chemical properties of the sealants. Whether you're tackling custom shades or small production runs, Holcosil IP ensures consistency and reliability.

From batch production to cartridge filling, Holland Colours ensures cost-effective efficiency and unparalleled color consistency. With over 40 years of experience, we design solutions perfectly tailored to your needs.
