

HolcoSlip

SLIP AGENT FOR PET

CREATE A GREAT IMPRESSION BY REDUCING
SURFACE FRICTION

With branding evermore important in retail, no company can now afford to sell its products in scuffed and scratched PET bottles and containers.

DAMAGE AS A RESULT OF SCUFFING

The biggest cause of scratches and scuffing marks is not handling at the point of sales, but during production. In particular the moment when an injection molded packaging product is released and collected. Friction causes the injection molded products to stick slightly as they are released. When in contact with other products, damage occurs.

PROVEN COST-EFFECTIVE SURFACE FRICTION REDUCTION TECHNOLOGY

As well as reducing damage, HolcoSlip also offers economic advantages. These include low dosing levels (0.05-0.2%) and the ability to store a higher amount of preforms per octabin. HolcoSlip is compatible with most liquid additive or colorant dosing systems. Holland Colours technical sales support team is at your disposal in case of questions.

REGULATORY INFORMATION

Holland Colours HolcoSlip is suitable for use under EU, Chinese GB and FDA food contact legislation. Holland Colours' regulatory team is at the forefront of legislative developments to ensure documentation is always up to date. Although the documents are complete and easy to read, the team is at your disposal to answer any questions.

HOLCOSLIP BENEFITS AT A GLANCE

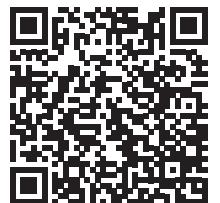

- ✓ Release injection molded preforms and containers more easily from the mold
- ✓ Pack more preforms into every bulk octabin (~10% more preforms per bin)
- ✓ Get optimum slip performance at lower dosing levels than other solutions
- ✓ Bio-based
- ✓ Environmentally and food-contact safe
- ✓ Negligible influence on your PET conversion process and no discoloration (e.g., no yellowing or black specks)
